

DESCENDANTS OF JAMES NORMAN

Don Norman

For many years, many of us who bear the Norman surname have believed that our name originated in France. This is quite possible, however, such an origin would be ancient indeed, since our ancestry has been traced to James Norman, who was born in Holbrook, Derby, England about 1678. Derby is North West of London, near Nottingham.

1.JAMES NORMAN

James Norman was born in Holbrook, Duffield, Derby, England about 1678 and died there May 7, 1725. His wife's name was Elizabeth. The christening dates of their children are from the Duffield Parish Register and were somewhat later than the children's birth dates.

NORMAN

James Norman, a son of John and Lydia (Brown) Norman, was born in Duffield, Derby, England in 1776 and was christened at Derby parish May 19, 1776. At this writing, it is not known when or how James came to America. We do know that he married Mary Nedley, who was born in 1775 in Virginia. In 1810, the Randolph County VA (WV) Census listed the 12 member family of James Norman.

James "Jimmy" Norman (1910-1982), son of Elmer Dotson Norman, helped build the two-story stone "Norman Cottage" in Normantown, WV just west of the school on US 33/119. His grandfather, James Paul Norman, told how James, Mary, and one son, Semore, came over the mountains by wagon, from present-day Barbour County WV, to settle in the fertile valleys sometimes called "the blue grass belt of WV" prior to 1830. They spent their first winter on the Left Fork of Steer Creek, in a bark lean-to, built in a small ravine just below the present road near where Richard Parsons now lives. The following year, they built a house at the forks of White Oak Camp Run and the Left Fork of Steer Creek. For many years a large stone stood in the meadow marking the site of their home. Then one hot summer day, Jimmy Norman removed it. In his words, "I had skinned my knuckles just one too many times, trying to maneuver the horses and equipment around that rock." According to Jimmy, James received a 1,000 acres land grant from the Governor of Virginia.

Jimmy recalled: "I can show you every corner." The stone house is on the original grant. James also received a grant in 1831 from the Governor of Virginia for 45 acres on Steer Creek, and in 1837 another tract of 50 acres on Steer Run. Daniel DeWeese (1821-1905), a Confederate Civil War Veteran and lifelong resident of Gilmer and Calhoun Counties, recalled James Norman in his 1904 book, "Recollections and Experiences of a Lifetime":

"During the Summer of 1843, one Sunday at prayer meeting, which was being conducted at the residence of Wm. Boggs, James Norman, a man of devout mind and very reserved and timid, a gray haired pilgrim whose sands of time were nearly run, in the course of the services arose and for the first time he was ever known to speak in public gave such a profound and convincing exhortation that all who were present were soul feelingly stirred and sensibly impressed. "I myself being so forcibly imbued and touched by Father Norman's appeal that not long after I joined the Church and was baptized in Steer Creek just below the forks of Steer Creek at Stumptown by the Rev. Carr Bailey who was pastor of Mt. Pisgah Church from 1842 to 1844 and was received into full fellowship and continued a member of the Mt. Pisgah Baptist Church at Stumptown, Gilmer County, then Virginia, now WV, over fourteen years."

James and Mary (Nedley) Norman were enumerated in the 1850 Census of Gilmer County (He was 74 and she 75). James wrote his will June 10, 1852 and died less than a month later on July 6, 1852. His will is recorded in Will Book 1, Page 8 at the Gilmer County Court House, Glenville, WV

I JAMES NORMAN of the County of Gilmer and State of Virginia, farmer, do make and publish this my last will and testament and I direct that my body be decently interred according to the rites and ceremonies of the regular Baptist Church, and that my funeral be conducted in a manner corresponding with my estate and station in life, and as to such worldly estate as it hath pleased God to entrust me with, I dispose of the same as follows: First, I direct that all my debts and funeral expenses be paid as soon after my decease as possible out of the first moneys that shall come in to the hands of my Executors from any portion of my estate. Also I direct that a fair valuation or appraisement be made by three judicious neighbors, of all my said estate including my household furniture, and after being signed with their names, that a copy of the same be given to each of my Executors. Also I direct that all my farming utensils and personal property be sold by public auction by my Executors on a reasonable credit taking bond and security from the purchasers in order to secure the payment thereof.

In order to effectuate this my intentions I hereby rest in my Executors full power and authority to collect all my debts due me and the amount of my personal estate and secure the same to be by them applied to the maintenance of my loving wife if she shall be living at the time of my decease. I also in like manner direct that the whole of my household furniture shall be and remain the absolute property of my beloved wife. If she shall not survive me, then that the same be sold with the balance of my personal property to be equally divided amongst my heirs share and share alike, so soon as the same shall come into the hands of my Executors.

I also direct that if any amount of my estate shall remain in the hands of my Executors after the decease of my beloved wife that the same be equally divided as I have before described. I do hereby make and ordain my esteemed son Semore Norman and James E. Norman Executors of this my last will and testament.

In witness whereof I James Norman the testator, to this will written on one sheet of paper, set my hand and seal this tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty two.

28.ANDREW JACKSON NORMAN 12.JOHN NORMAN 8.JAMES NORMAN
6.JOHN NORMAN 4.JAMES NORMAN 1.JAMES NORMAN

Andrew Jackson Norman was born 1827, in Virginia, son of John and Nancy (Montgomery) Norman.

Andrew contracted Typhoid Fever when a small child. Frozen sod was pressed to both sides of his head to control the high fever. He survived the fever, but was deaf the rest of his life. He was said to carry a small slate for people to write on when he couldn't understand them. He also taught children with the slate.

Many years ago Escue Carl Norman spent the night in a boarding house in Weston, WV. An elderly lady noted his name and told how Andrew J. Norman had made her first pair of shoes, when she was a child. They had no nails.

Andrew J. Norman was married to Amanda "Monoka" Arnold in Gilmer County Virginia (WV) on July 18, 1852, by S.M. Brannon. Amanda, a daughter of Isaac and Mary Arnold, was born in Virginia December 29 1833 and died in Gilmer County VA (WV) May 14, 1865. Andrew and Amanda bought a 21 acre farm on the left fork of White Oak Camp Run near Normantown, WV In September 1862 Andrew was robbed by three men claiming to be Confederate soldiers. He brought suit against them in Ritchie County. The charge was that they "did with force and arms seize, take, detain and carry away two hounds, and other property of the value of Eight Hundred Dollars." There is no record that the case was ever prosecuted.

These people may well have been part of any of the loosely organized groups of Confederate guerrillas who roamed that area during the early years of the Civil War. Although they were retroactively granted Army status by the governor of Virginia, they seemed to prey on the residents of the area, with little actual military activity against the Union forces.

After Monoka died, Andrew left his farm, which was sold at public auction on June 1, 1880 to Henry L. Gaston for 94 cents delinquent taxes.

Susan Allen, born 1845 in Jackson County, Va (now WV) may have been visiting her brother, Hiram Allen at his home in Barbecue Fork of Grass Run when she met Andrew Norman. They were soon married.

Andrew J. Norman was in Ritchie County WV on May 12, 1894, where he prepared an affidavit on behalf of his sister-in-law, Tamar Norman. Tamar was attempting to obtain a Civil War widow's pension. This is the last written record of Andrew J. Norman.

Savilla Conrad remembered having seen Andrew Jackson Norman near Rosedale, WV sometime after 1900. As she recalled, "We lived 10 miles above Rosedale. Mable (born Apr 5, 1908) was less than two years old when old deaf Andy Norman came walking through. He tried to ask directions to Frametown, but I couldn't understand him. He wrote on a slate and I turned it over and wrote directions on the back. He had been a portly man, but wasn't carrying much flesh at that time."

Susan died in Ohio in 1910. Andrew went to OK and lived with his son Theodore and died there.

152.ANDREW HARRISON NORMAN 28.ANDREW JACKSON NORMAN 12.JOHN NORMAN
8.JAMES NORMAN 6.JOHN NORMAN 4.JAMES NORMAN 1.JAMES NORMAN

Andrew Harrison Norman was born December 28, 1867, in Gilmer County, WV, a son of Andrew Jackson and Susanna (Allen) Norman. He was married to Mary Catherine Cottrell on October 29, 1891 by Z. A. Bollinger, in Gilmer County. Catherine, a daughter of Nathan and Nancy Jane (Schoolcraft) Cottrill, was born in 1874 and died August 26, 1958.

"Andy" was a farmer and timberman. He worked as a teamster and "drifted" timber for different contractors. He worked for the Interstate Cooperage Company during the time that company was operating in Gilmer County.

"Andy" and Catherine lived on the Right Fork of Steer Creek, Gilmer County, WV, about a quarter mile downstream from the intersection of the Tanner's Fork road, at the spot where Brock Stewart lives in 1987. They lived in a small house there from about 1897 until 1914, when they moved into the two story log house that still stands. according to Ralph Perrine, the family lived in the log house from 1914 until 1917.

When the estate of Eliza Shock, widow of Alexander Shock, was settled, the property passed into the hands of Fletcher H. Stout. The new owner requested "Andy" and Catherine to move, on the grounds that their continued occupancy might give them "squatter's rights" to the property. Then they moved to the head of Saw Pit Run, a tributary of Tanner's Fork in the Spring of 1917.

As Coy Norman said, they practically moved into the woods in the head of Saw Pit. They cleared land and built barns and other outbuildings and planted an apple orchard. They lived there until the 1940's, when their failing health caused them move into a house on their son Escue's farm near Stumptown, WV. "Andy" died August 3, 1953 and Catherine on August 26, 1958. Both are buried in the Collins Community Cemetery at Stumptown, WV.

To the best of this writer's knowledge, "Andy" Norman was the last resident of the Shock, WV, community to be buried in a home made casket. "Andy" had requested Grover C. Miller to make his casket many years before his death, and had cut lumber for the purpose. For people of "Andy" and Grover's generation, such a promise and such foresight in cutting lumber was not unusual; it was simply good preparation for the inevitable.

The writer recalls "Andy" relating Grover's promise and telling of the stored lumber some few years before his death, as though all was in order and nothing amiss in his approaching death. When the time came, Grover did make the casket. The making of a casket in the Shock, WV community at that time was not the simple nailing together of a few planks. The making of a casket had evolved from being simply a container for a corpse to being a measure of the regard of the builder for the deceased and the greatest care and craftsmanship that the builder was capable of went into the product. Since power tools were almost unknown in those days, building a casket was an around the clock task of from twenty four to thirty six hours, with all available hands busy sawing, ripping, planing, sanding, sewing, drilling and fitting.

The writer remembers "Andy's" casket as being an excellent piece of work and a worthy tribute to the regard of one man for another.
